

– CALL FOR PAPERS –

10th International KFT-Symposium

The 10th Scientific Diving Symposium 2017 will take place from 02.11.17 to 03.11.17 in Bremerhaven and is collaboratively organized by the Alfred-Wegener-Institute Helmholtz Centre of Polar and Marine Research (AWI/Bremerhaven), the Leibniz Centre for Tropical Marine Research (ZMT/Bremen) and the National German Maritime Museum (DSM/Bremerhaven). As in previous years the Symposium shall be a platform for scientific divers/researchers without diving skills to present their recent work, get together to network and establish new

The Symposium will emphasize on the following 4 key-issues:

- 1st Session - International reciprocity in scientific diving
- 2nd Session – Innovative methods in aquatic research related to Scientific Diving
- 3rd Session – Capacity Development – Forward-thinking implementation of German/European standards abroad
- 4th Session – Recent underwater research - Presentation of results by young scientists

Poster Presentation – Recent methods and procedures in scientific diving

For the sessions 2, 3 & 4 as well as for the subsequent poster session, contributions are highly welcome.

For detailed information of the single sessions please follow:

<http://www.forschungstauchen-deutschland.de>

For registration to the Symposium, please use the following link:

<http://www.forschungstauchen-deutschland.de/index.php/registration-symposium-2017>

Please note the deadlines and fees:

Registration with Talk or Poster until 31th of August 2017 € 50
from 1st of September 2017 € 75

50% discount for students and unemployed attendants (verification required)

Additionally requested details:

Length of talk

Topic and category

Poster Size

Demonstration plots (if needed)